Senator Call.

We would say to our good friend of the Norfolk Landmark that we have not at hand-what we had when we were discussing the subject-the precedents in the Florida case of the election, or pretended selection, of a United States senator by a ever, nothing but the Federal Constitution to sustain our contention. That document provides that United States senators shall be elected by "the legislatures" of the several States. The joint assembly which elected Mr. Call was not the Legislature of Fiorida. It was a convention of mem-bers of the Florida Legislature.

The Landmark will see at once that Gov. ernor Call's contention cannot be sound constitutional law if that paper will cal to mind the fact that the Virginia House of Delegates consists of one hundred mem bers and the Senate of only forty, and that if that contention be maintainable seventy-one members of the House of Delegates could elect a United States senator, provided a minority, however small of the members of the Senate were pres

Nevertheless, as we have heretofore eaid, the debate upon the question of admitting Governor Call to a seat in the United States Senate will be able and interesting. We hope to read the report of it with both pleasure and profit. Intelectual giants-profound constitutions lawyers-will bring to light all that car be said on either side of the question. As to the precedents, we will merely say to our Norfolk contemporary that for almost a hundred years the United States Senate held and acted upon the theory or doctrine that vacancies in that body which were foreseen and yet not pro vided for by the State Legislatures were not vacancies within the meaning of the Federal Constitution, but now holds and acts upon the theory or doctrine that any vacancy that occurs "happens" within the meaning of that instrument. As Sena-tor Hill well said, the word "happen," as used in the Constitution, means "happer

We shall not believe until the United States Sonate has itself so decided that that body will ever decide that one branch of a State Legislature can unite with a minority of the other branch and thus united constitutionally elect a United States senator. A single consideration ought to negative such an assumption -namely, the consideration that a majority of the members of the body refusing to a into a joint assembly, or failing to be therein, might assemble together at the same time the minority was pretending to represent the whole body in the joint as Primary Election Expenses. We ought always to make our primary election expenses as low as possible con estent with our duty to those whose services we employ for the occasion, and es pecially should we do so when the places to be filled by our nominees are posts of honor and trust rather than of profit.

Membership in either of the two house of the General Assembly comes in this category. The pay for a regular session i $360, and for a special, or called, session

No mileage is due a Richmond man The two sums named, therefore, represent all the money that one can hope to acquire by being elected from this city to the Senate or House of Delegates, and it often happens that the expenses of candidacy exceed the aggregate sum which can be drawn from the State Treasury.

For these reasons and because ours is a

For these reasons and because ours is a popular party which invites and encourages all of its members, the humblest as well as the highest, the poorest as well as the richest, to participate in its work and enjoy its honors, we trust and believe that the City Committee will make its assessments for the coming primary as low as possible. The candidates must expect, as heretofore, to pay the rent for the voting-places, the per diem of the clerks and judges, the cost of printing the tickets and of providing the stationery. Great constraints and the providing the stationery of the people being of the opinion that Hazlewood is half-witted and totally incanable of constraint on the providing the stationery. enjoy its honors, we trust and believe tha or small, this burden they must bear in accordance with the established usages of the party. If an arrangement could be made to relieve them entirely of this expense no doubt the committee would be only too happy to make it; but this cannot be unless collections on the street are resorted to, and these would forestall the collections that must be made to payour party's expenses in the general election. party's expenses in the general election. So, all that we can now expect is that the committe will calculate as closely as they can what will be the actual cost of th primary and apportion the aggregate among the several candidates, and the probability is that the share required of each will not be so large as has been expected.

So, too, in editor may be summoned to give his opinion as to the value of a newspaper involved in a lawsuit.

Naw Youx, October 12.—Steamers from Europe arriving Saturday and Sunday brought gold as fellows: La Bretagne, $1,300,000; Umbria, $1,320,000; Elbe, $500,000.

So say all the papers of yesterday. The predictions of the monomets are thus shown to be absolutely without foundashown to be absolutely without foundation. There never was a parallel to the persistency with which the gold-bugs argue against facts. If the facts agreed with their theories they might be excused for pressing those theories upon public attention. But when their theories have for thirteen years been contradicted by the facts at would seem that a little modesty might be becoming.

Since then fifty-seven other such wells have been sunk, and it was thought that New Orleans had at last found notable water. Dr. METZ now finds a great excess of albumen, ammonia, and nitrogen in the Artesian well water, which satisfies him that the surface drainage and sewage have contaminated it.

This leaves, as the only drinkable water in New Orleans, the Mississippi river water, which very few people use. It is very muddy. Very few houses have hydrants, so that even those who are willing to go to the trouble of filtering it find it difficult to get it.

Governor Hill's Coming.

It is fixed that Governor Hill, of New York, will be here on Monday. He is to be the guest of the Powhatan Club, at whose invitation he visits the city, and the members of that famous organization, without regard to presidential preferences, will unite in doing the duties of hospitality. It is enough for them to know that he is one of the staunchest Democrats of New York; that he has most honorably served that great State in the Executive chair, and that he was elected to a seat in the United States Senate upon the overwhelming demand of the party. The club will no doubt arrange a programme for the entertainment of Governor Hm. during his stay here, which will allow him to meet as many as possible of our people. They wish to see him. He wants to see them, and no doubt the pleasure of the meeting will be great and

All his life it was his delight to assist and encourage young men in the pursuit of knowledge. WILMINGTON, N. C., October 13.—A fire broke out last night at half-past is octook in the hold of the British steamer Virginia, loading cotton at the Casimplon compress. The fire was soon gotten under control by the fire department and the Gresboat Marie. The flames broke out again at 4 o'clock this morning, but were speedily extinguished by the Marie. The hold of the vessel is still flooded, the greatest damage being from water. The vessel is not injured. The cotton and the vessel are both fully insured. The damage to the cotton is supposed to be slight, but is not yet estimated. The steamer was being loaded by Messra. Alex. Sprant & Son for liverpool. The origin of the fire was unknown. It is the first fire in a foreign vessel at this port for several years.

AN HISTORIC SIELE.

Mr. Willis H. Hamilin, of this city, is the owner of a Ribie which has an interesting history. It has been in the family for a number of generations, is said to have originally been the propry of Lord Cornwallis, and to have been found by an ancestor of Mr. Hamilin on the battle-fleid of Vorkiowa after the surrender of the English forces. The utle-page and some of the leaves of the Bible are missing, so that the date of publication cannot be resilively stated. Otherwise the book has been well preserved and carefully rebound. An interesting peculiarity of the Bible is that it opens with the Fealter, and contains a large portion of the prayers to be found in the book of Common Prayer of the Church of England, including the contession, cellects of thankagiving for various mercles, orders from additions and amendments to the Prayer-Book issued from the Court of St. James in 1714 and 1715.
